A WINTER FLIGHT.

NOTES OF A STAGE COACH JOURNEY THROUGH EASTERN MAINE. A CAMP FIRE AT ELLSWORTH.

(Correspondence of the Belfast Journal.)

This time the flight was to be towards the East. Monday morning, March 5th, was the time appointed for starting on the journey. The thermometer was 12 degrees below zero. The point of departure was the Penobscot Exchange. The hour was 8 A. M. The vehicle was a covered coach; the motive power, three powerful horses. "All aboard" shouts the buffalo robed "Jehu," and we clamber in. The crack of the whip flings out sharply on the frosty air, and away we dash. We soon make an inventory of the occupants of the coach. Mr. B., (an estimable and gentlemanly insurance agent of Bangor, and a young lady whose name and residence were unknown, occupy the rear seat. Two men fresh from the logging camps of the Penobscot and now returning to their homes in Hancock county, occupy the seat in the forward part of the coach with your scribe. I sat in the northeast corner of the vehicle and rode backwards.

The wind was blowing from the regions of the North Pole at the rate of ten miles an hour, and had free access through the numerous openings in the sides and bottom of the coach. The lumberman who occupied the seat with me had been tarrying in Bangor for a short time, and they soon began to show indications that they had there come in possession of a large amount of poor whiskey. The first indication I noticed of this was when the older of the two pulled a pint flask from his pocket and asked my friend the insurance agent if he would not drink. B. replied that he never used stimulants of any kind. This reply, coming from so dignified a source, sufficed and his veracity was not questioned.

It was now my turn and I gave a similar answer, but evidently my appearance was against me. The owner of the bottle looked at me for a moment with an incredulous look, and then said: "Ah Captain, that is too thin. No use to put on airs and deny it, for I know by your looks that you are one of the chaps. When they found that neither of us would drink they kindly informed us that they would not insult us by drinking in the coach. But they had a great deal of sympathy for the horses, and whenever we came to a hill they kindly insisted upon getting out to walk up, so as to favor the horses; but when they re-entered the coach we could easily detect an additional odor of poor whiskey in the atmosphere.

I was a cold ride from Bangor to Ellsworth, a distance of twenty-six miles. The mail was changed at each post-office and as we sat shivering in the coach through the tedious process of "changing mail," we could but wish that the Postmasters would put on additional help to assist in reading the postal cards, so that the delay would be less. Our companions from the forest grew hilarious as we proceeded. The older of the two turned suddenly upon your scribe and demanded, "What do you suppose my politics are?" I could only answer, "I guess you are a Democrat." "No sir." "Well then a Republican." "No" "A Greenbacker?" "Yes sir!" And then he continued, "I was born and bred a Democrat, but the party became so corrupt that I left them and joined the Greenbackers. They tell me now that the Greenback party is dead; if that is so, what shall I do. I can never go back to the Democrats." Well join the Republicans," I suggested. "Never," he shouted, "they are worse than the Democrats." "No, if the Greenback party is dead I will join the Insane Hospital."

Politics soon gave way to music and they began to sing hymns and songs mixed up in the most absurd and shocking manner. The younger of the two soon showed signs of sleep, and his head drooped between his knees, and with his body in the form of a hoop he slept the sleep of the—drunken. His companion continued to sing; his voice was sharp and cracked; his favorite song appeared to be one that he called "The dark eyed Sailor." He sang the wretched doggerel through with the utmost satisfaction to himself and then evidently imagined that he had been encored and deliberately sang it through again. When it was completed the second time the machinery of song was evidently under such headway that it could not be stopped, and for a whole mortal hour we were obliged to listen to that song. The voice grew husky, but the lungs became strong. The only relief we experienced was when the sleigh would plunge into some deep rut, and for a moment would break up the horrid song.

At length, to our great relief, the coach came to a halt and the door was opened. Our companions had reached their homes and were to leave us. The younger and more sleepy of the two stepped easily out; the other was quickly unloaded. The last I saw of him as the coach was dashing away, he was leaning at an angle of forty-five degrees, against a northwest gale, waving his hat in a parting salute, while clear and sharp through the frosty air there came that awfully doleful sound—those wretched words, made more wretched by a score of repetitions—"The dark-eyed Soil-OR."

At one o'clock Ellsworth was reached and we drew up in front of the "American House." The excellent bill of fare here provided soon made amends for all the inconveniences experienced by the drunken associations of the day. It was our first visit in Ellsworth. We found it a beautiful little town. Many of the dwellings, the churches, and the public buildings are in excellent order, and their neat appearance speaks well for the citizens. The large brick block, of which Hancock Hall is a part, would do credit to any city in the State. A few moments were passed among friends in the Custom House, and then a hasty visit was made to the sanctum of the Ellsworth American. The office is a model of neatness and comfort. The sunshine gleams in through the broad, deep windows, but even that is eclipsed by the sunshine of the gifted and genial Vaughn, the presiding genius of the establishment.

I attended a lecture in Hancock Hall in the evening. It was a beautiful auditorium. There was a large audience and a very happy presiding officer. From nine to eleven P. M. there was a miniature camp-fire held in room No. 7 at the American House. Around it was a remarkable gathering of the members of the Grand Army of the Potomac; men who had fought on the Peninsula, at Bull Run, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, The Wilderness, Spottsylvania, Petersburg, Port Hudson, and Vicksburg. There was one whose empty sleeve spoke of brave deeds performed, and of a fearful wound, received on Morey's Height's at Fredericksburg, when they were successfully assaulted by the Light Brigade of General Burnham in May, 1863. There was another who was captured at Spottsylvania and who passed eleven months in Andersonville Prison. At eleven o'clock the camp-fire was extinguished. The comrades said good-by and departed. The writer retired to rest, for the night has only begun and must be continued for a week, regardless of bitter cold and pelting storms.

The reigning beauty of Ireland is a Belfast mill-girl. Crowds, it is said, surround the mill daily to see her as she takes her departure.

The New York Senate has passed a bill requiring telegraph and telephone companies to put their wires underground by March 1, 1885.

The Norwegian ship John Bertram, from New York for Rotterdam, with petroleum, has been abandoned at sea. The captain and crew were saved.

A three years' old girl recently travelled alone from New York to her grandmother's, in Milwaukee, having been ticketed through on a Pullman car.

Rev. Lawrence Walsh, treasurer of the Irish National Land League, cabled $3000 to Ireland, Tuesday, for the relief of the victims of famine in the west.

The general term of the supreme court at New York has affirmed the sentence of Noelke and Marks, the lottery men, and they go to prison for a year.

The United States river commission examined the improvements at Plum Point on the Mississippi last Monday, and decided that the high water did them no material damage.

General Grant, who had made all arrangements to visit Europe the coming summer, has reconsidered his purpose, and with his family will occupy his cottage at Long Branch.

Miss Ottalie J. Klauczek, a pianist, has become insane and is in the asylum at Indianapolis, Ind. Her condition is such as to cause apprehensions that she will not live many days.

The will of the late Adam J. Clasy, a Philadelphia merchant, which has just been admitted to probate, bequeaths $60,000 to various Catholic charitable and educational institutions of that city.

There is an immense pack of ice two miles off Cape Fear, Newfoundland. Some wreckage was recovered Tuesday from the lost brigantine, but work has not yet been resumed on the stranded steamer Herder.

Miss Alice Beatty, one of the most charming girls of Lebanon, Pa., had some little quarrel with her sweetheart, and in her grief sought to take her life by shooting herself. Fortunately there is hope of her recovery.

A seal, about six feet in length, which has been seen disporting itself for some time in the waters of Raritan Bay, N. J., was captured, Monday, by the crew from a Staten Island dam dredger.

William T. Aymar, once a well-known and famous circus actor and manager, who had been connected at one time and another with most of the great travelling shows of the country, has just died in his brother's house at Fordham.

The seventy one-thousand dollar seven per cent. bonds of the People's Railway Company, of Philadelphia, that were stolen from the Guarantee Company's bond-room on March 3, were returned Monday, it is not explained how.

Representative Beltzhoover, who made the assault in the House upon Chief Signal Officer Hazen, is writing to various officers in the Signal Service to obtain information upon which he can base further charges. He has not thus far been successful.

The young man Tucker, of Peabody who lost the sum of $350 while in Boston recently with his fiancee, for the purpose of purchasing household goods, has had nearly the full amount raised for him by Lynn, Boston and Peabody friends. He has also been presented with a set of furniture and 16 yards of carpeting.

Hon. Frederick Billings, of Woodstock, has given the University of Vermont seventy-five thousand dollars for the erection of a library building. The late George P. Marsh, which Mr. Billings purchased at the cost of fifteen thousand dollars for the university, is now on the way to Burlington, and is expected daily.

The female hippopotamus presented to the London Zoological Society by the Viceroy of Egypt thirty years ago has just died. She survived her mate, which lived twenty-seven years in the society's gardens, about six years. It thus seems that the average life of the hippopotamus is about thirty years.

Continental traveling is improving. On the 1st of June next, it is announced, the International Sleeping Car Company will commence running a weekly service of "trains de luxe" between Calais and Bologna "for the comfort of passengers." The trains will be composed of dining-room, drawing-room and sleeping cars, lighted by gas.

In Cleveland, Saturday, legal steps were taken to make Julius Kinsley Cobb, seven years of age, a recognized place among the heirs of Abira Cobb, who died in 1852, leaving an estate of $2,000,000. It is claimed that the boy is the son of Elmore Cobb, who was married to Minnie L. Peck ten years ago, but was divorced two years later. Minnie afterward married again. The other heirs oppose young Julius.

A clever Yankee in Paris recently opened a booth on one of the boulevards and invited the public to enter at an admission fee of three sous and inspect the fashions of the times. One of the conditions of admission was that visitors were to say nothing outside as to what they had seen. What they saw was their own images in a large mirror.

A Florida land company is engaged in draining the Everglades by means of a canal from the lake to the Caloosahatchie River. The lake is considerably higher than the Gulf, and its waters are kept in by a low ridge. The work has only just begun, but much good has already been accomplished. Within six months from the time the canal from Lake Okichobee was commenced land which had hitherto been covered by water to a depth of four to six feet was in many places perfectly free from it and in others not more than six inches deep. The soil so redeemed is as rich and as fertile as that of the Mississippi Valley, a vegetable mould of eight or ten feet resting on a sub-soil or pan of hard clay. The whole country is to be freed from water by a series of canals and cross-cuts.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

Canner Post of Lewiston, has invited all military organizations in Androscoggin county to join in their Memorial Day parade.

The Auburn Light Infantry is drilling hard in anticipation of its trip to Lowell. The Company will give a ball in Auburn Hall, April 5th.

Lewiston is soon to have a camp of Sons of Veterans.

Smith and Sabin, of Lewiston, have contracted to pipe the new shoe factory of Skowhegan, and the two elegant houses built this year by the Gilberts, at Canton.

Aroostook.

By rough estimate, the amount of wood required to supply Houlton a year, is 3,000 cords. The average price is $3 per cord.

The Pioneer says: The number of buildings to be erected in Houlton during the present year, it is thought, will equal if not exceed that of last year. The following persons have already declared their intention to build: Mr. Spencer, the painter, store and shop on Leonard street; E. Merritt, dwelling, Park street; L. W. Stevens, store, Main street; J. N. Clarke, hotel; S. D. Amaz'en, dwelling.

About two hundred miles north-west from Houlton,—not on an air-line, but by the way of Fort Kent,—is a locality known to the lumbermen as Seven Islands. W. H. Cary was once an extensive operator in the lumber woods of that region, and made a large firm bounded upon one side by the St. John river. Upon it he raised hay, grain and stock to supply his camps. One year he raised three thousand bushels of oats. The farm continues to produce abundantly, a portion of it being owned and operated by Mr. J. F. Cormier. Although eighty miles from a railroad, and far away from "city life," he is still contented and prosperous.

Cumberland.

The store of Messrs. Geo. A. Guptill & Co., Portland, was broken into, Saturday night, and the contents of the money drawer, some $8 31 in silver and coppers, 200 cigars, and at least $30 worth of tobacco stolen. Entrance was effected by the Newbury street door, the thieves forcing in the panels that formerly had glass in them, but lately had been nailed up.

Kennebec.

The Journal says the Kennebec county commissioners have about decided to make extensive repairs on the Court House within a year or two; also to put on an 18-foot addition. Two jury rooms and a judge's room will be added, if the proposed changes are made.

Geo. R. Crocker, a mill hand in the employ of H. W. Jewett & Co., at Gardiner, eloped recently, with the daughter of Mr. Alfred Williams, of that city. Crocker is about twenty-six years old, and the Miss but fourteen. Crocker having been forbidden the house, the girl did up her clothing and threw the bundle out of the window in the night. Crocker, it is supposed, securing it. The next day the young damsel started for school, when it is supposed she went to meet her lover, and the two took the next train West.

There will be a large amount of building in Gardiner, this year.

Lincoln.

A new vessel was launched at East Boothbay, recently, named the Ambrose H. Knight, for J. C. Poole, and she will fit for the fisheries.

The News says: A serious accident occurred in the yard of William Adams & Son, on Tuesday the 13th inst. W. I. Adams was at work on a stage, some part of which gave way, precipitating him some fifteen feet down on a pile of rocks, striking his face on the sharp edge of a rock, breaking both upper and lower jaw, breaking out several teeth and bruising his body badly.

The water is very low in the river at Bristol and but very little long lumber has been sawed as yet. There has become quite a large amount of lumber hauled into the mills this winter, and business bids fair to be lively when the water does come. C. C. Robins & Son are getting out a small vessel frame for the Gumages, and manufacturing some packing cases, barrels, etc.

Mr. Elisha Piper, late of Parsonsfield, willed to the town on his decease his entire estate, amounting to about $9,500, the interest of which is over $550, to be expended for a free high school for the benefit of the scholars of said Parsonsfield. Two years' interest has been schooled out at North Parsonsfield where they have claimed its permanent location for all coming time. But the town is dissimilar to most any town in the country, it having five post offices: Kezar Falls, North Parsonsfield, East Parsonsfield, Parsonsfield and South Parsonsfield. Parsonsfield was discontinued a few years ago and established at Effingham City, on the New Hampshire line, near its former location; each of these locations have a natural division from each other, more so than many different towns. So the majority of the legal voters in town have come to the conclusion that the school must be put on trucks and moved around where a suitable house can be provided for a high school, consequently Kezar Falls gets the school this year.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle & Burr, and communications intended for publication should be addressed "Editor of Whig and Courier."

FRIDAY MARCH 23, 1883.

FOR MAYOR:

THE ELECTION TO-MORROW.

We are glad to know that our citizens are becoming more thoroughly awakened to the importance of the election to be held to-morrow for Mayor of our city, and to learn that while many Republicans who neglected voting before are now taking active interest in the election of a Republican Chief Magistrate, there are also Democrats who do not believe that the inauguration of a political antagonism between the Mayor and the City Council will be advantageous to the public business.

The fact that the Commercial favors such a divided City Government cannot fail to remind citizens of both parties, of the experiment of that kind that was tried with Mr Bass, and if he and his paper want a second edition of it, we don't believe the people have any such desire.

A year of bickering and pettifogging by a Mayor anxious all the time to politically advertise himself by opposing the rest of the City Government, is not a prospect that business men or tax-payers can look forward to with any satisfaction, and no one seriously attempts to argue that Mr Cummings would make a more competent or desirable head of the City Government than Mayor Strickland. In fact nine-tenths of the people of Bangor would concede at once the superior qualifications of the latter.

The premature boasting of the Democratic organ should be another incentive to Republican unity and earnestness. We owe it to ourselves and to the city to elect a Republican Mayor, and this can be done by harmonious and vigorous effort from now to the closing of the polls. With a sturdy rally in every ward for Mr. Strickland he can be handsomely chosen, and we again counsel unity and active work.

INDUSTRIAL ENGLAND.

Under the above heading, Mr Robert P Porter late member of the American Tariff Commission has written a series of letters from England, for the Tribune, which are exciting much attention in this country. The facts for his letters Mr. Porter obtained by seeking information through personal observation and inquiry at the points where great industrial operations are prosecuted, of the workmen themselves at the mill, shop, forge, lathe, or wherever they were employed.

The last letter of this kind, just published by the Tribune describes the condition of the people, their work and wages in the "Black Country," so-called, lying partly in Stafford and partly in Worcester county, where the hand made nail trade is carried on extensively. About 24,000 persons are engaged in the district making nails and rivets. The appearance of the place is wretched in the extreme. Of the people and their employment Mr Porter says:

The inhabitants of this desolate district are among the most industrious and yet the most wretched in England. They are engaged in making all kinds of nails, rivets and chains. The work is done in little "mithys" attached to the houses in which the workers reside and for which the usual rent seems to be about 3s 6d to 4s 6d a week, a trifle over fifty cents. These houses as a rule contain little or no furniture. They are filthy and wretched beyond description. What spare time the unhappy nailer's wife gets from nursing the baby and preparing the meagre meals is spent at the smithy fire pounding away at the anvil until late at night. But the extra work that the woman does, combined with that of one child—any a girl of fourteen—will barely keep the family from starvation.

For example. An expert nailer, working steadily from Monday morning to Friday night, can only make two and a half bundles of iron rods into nails, for which he gets 6 7½d per bundle, or for his weeks' work, 16s 8d, exactly $4. Now, he will by working every moment of her spare time and late into the night—neglecting the wretched little children—can make a bundle of commoner nails, for which she is paid 3s 1d and the little half starved stunted girl of twelve, with her brown arms and steady, unerring hammer will hammer out half a bundle, 1s 6½d. To all earnings of an industrious and hard-working family, three at a forge, for the entire week:

	English Money	United States Money
Father,	16s 8d	$4.00
Mother,	3s 1d	.74
Daughter,	1s 7½d.	.39
Total gross earnings of the family per week	21s 4½d.	$5.13

But out of this pittance must come 3d for carriage of iron from the forger's and returning the nails, 1d for the smithy fire and 3d for the wear of tools. Net earnings, $4 77 per week—the united earnings of three industrious, sober persons.

There is much more in the same letter that is worse than the foregoing, describing the miserable hovels in which these people live and the pitiable condition of the women and children. In some cases mothers and three and even four daughters were found at the forge, their whole united weekly earnings amounting to less than $5. Many of the nailers actually starve. One of them said to Mr Porter "We don't live, we hardly exist. We rarely taste meat. I don't know what the poor folks in England are coming to. If they as work at other trades be like us, God help them, sir. I don't know what will become of us."

And this is in free trade England, the paradise of free traders, and these are the results of that doctrine upon the laborers there. This merciless system, which has no regard for the laborer, but to grind out of his bones and muscle the greatest possible amount of work for the least pittance of pay, is the system which Democratic free traders are scheming to establish in our country. Far distant be the day when this government shall enter into competition with England in the industrial policy that causes such wretchedness and misery as Mr. Porter's eyes have seen and described in the "old country."

The Italian Government has published a decree fixing April 12 as the date of the resumption of specie payments. The half lira, one lira and two lira notes will be payable in silver at all the State treasuries. Notes of five lire and upward will be payable in silver and gold at the Central Treasury in Rome, and in the treasuries of Bari, Bologna, Cagliari, Catania, Florence, Genoa, Leghorn, Messina, Milan, Naples, Palermo, Turin, Venice and Verona.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

REGULATION FOR THE COLLECTION OF REBATE CLAIMS.

Washington specials state: In addition to the regulations for the collection of rebate claims the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that a stamp the size of a visiting card and of a reddish color will be furnished to dealers for the purpose of marking such packages as shall have been inventoried. This will serve the double purpose of preventing duplication or confusion in the count May 1, and will enable Deputy Collectors to tell what packages have been included. Samples will be taken at random from the stock so marked and examined to see that they really contain tobacco. The officials state that it is their duty to observe all proper precautions. Information from various collectors in tobacco districts show that small dealers are buying very closely, and are only taking enough stock to supply their immediate trade. This care is also being observed by jobbers and agents, for wholesale houses report great difficulty in making sales. The trouble of making an inventory and the doubt concerning the time when rebate claims will be paid, makes it desirable that stock and claims shall be as small as possible. For this reason the tobacco trade will be very dull until the new reduced tax goes into operation.

FALSE ECONOMY.

The Post-Office Department has issued the following order. At the request of the Secretary of War, advising this department that on account of the insufficiency of the appropriation for the current fiscal year for the use of the Signal Service it will be impossible to display the cautionary signals by flag or lantern at the stations herein named it is hereby ordered that the Postmasters at such points shall display promptly in their respective offices such bulletins of storm warnings as may be telegraphed from the office of the Chief Signal Officer. The places in New England affected by this order are Bass River Light, Mass., Bath, Me., Block Island, R. I., Boothbay, Me., Bristol, R. I., Fall River, Gloucester, Highland Light, Hyannis, Lynn, Marblehead, New Bedford, Newburyport, Woods Holl, Mass., New Haven Light, Conn., Portsmouth, N. H., Rockland, Me., Southwest Harbor, Me., Stonington, Conn.

EXPORTS OF DOMESTIC PROVISIONS.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics reports that the total values of the exports of domestic provisions, tallow and dairy products during the month of February, 1883 and the two months ended February 28, 1883, also of the provisions and tallow for the four months, and of dairy products for the ten months ended the same dates, as compared with similar exports during the corresponding period of the preceding year were as follows: February, 1883, $9,407 734, February, 1882, $9 246 582; two months ended February 28 1883 $20 106 218, two months ended February 28, 1882 $22 446 961, provisions and tallow four months ended February 28, 1883, $46 949, 769, provisions and tallow, four months ended February 28, 1882, $40,623 311.

Attorney General Brewster has authorized the employment of Mr H H Wells to assist the District Attorney in the prosecution of the persons who have been indicted for participation in the recently discovered conspiracy between the thieves and the detectives of Washington, D C. As a result of the work of the Citizens' Committee 43 presentments have already been made, and the Grand Jury is still investigating the subject. The employment of special counsel is intended to secure an early trial and a vigorous prosecution of the cases.

Mr. Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and author of the somewhat famous "tariff for revenue only" plank of the last National Democratic platform calls loudly on his party to take the "bull of protection to American industry by the horns." Watterson's adage in this matter is useless however. "Taking the bull by the horns" is just what his party has been doing for the last year. It opposed the appointment of the Tariff Commission, and after it was appointed it villified it and threw mud at it. When the Commission made its report, it was denounced by a large majority of Democrats both in and out of Congress, who declared that no bill based on the report should ever become a law, and then did their best to make good their declaration by a policy of opposition filibustering and obstruction. In spite of all this, a bill reducing taxation and at the same time granting protection has been passed, and except for a few minor defects, is satisfactory to the country. "Take the protection bull by the horns, forsooth! What the Democratic party is really most agonizingly anxious to do just now is to contrive some way to get to those horns without serious damage to itself.—Boston Traveller.

After a long consideration of means for stopping a ship suddenly when emergency requires a German has adopted the principle of a recoil of a gun as the only feasible basis for experiment. He proposes to fasten on the front of the ship an immense cannon charged with some powerful explosive and ready to be fired by electricity at a moment's notice. He supposes that the recoil would exactly counterbalance the momentum of the ship, the armament of course, being proportioned to the tonnage.

The President has appointed George R Sage United States Judge for the Southern District of Ohio, vice William White, deceased. Mr. Sage, who is to succeed Judge White, is a native of Ohio and is about fifty years of age. He was a protege of Thomas Corwin, with whom he studied and practiced law, and whose niece he married. He is the head of the law firm of Sage & Hinkle, Cincinnati, and in his profession, it is said, stands second to no member of the Hamilton County bar. He was warmly recommended for the office by the lawyers of Cincinnati, and his appointment will be received with general approval by the bar of his native State. Personally he is very popular. Although not always active in political affairs he has been and is a staunch Republican.

IN ANSWER

to the payment of a claim at Bristol, Maine, on the life of Capt. John H Stirgis, for $3,500 Mr. A Chamberlain writes me as follows: "This is a case where Life Insurance answers the end for which it was intended. Capt. Hastings at the time he insured his life was a retired sea captain and had a good amount of property, which he invested in the oil business. He was taken sick, failed and became poor; and but for his policy of life insurance for $3 000 Mrs. Hastings, who had never known what it was to be poor, until recently, would have been in straightened circumstances and dependent upon her friends. The Connecticut Mutual Life have her sincere thanks for the promptness with which they have adjusted the claim."

Life Insurance is for adversity as well as success. It gives to the survivors, the money value of a life, so far as the legal insured.

And shall retail it at the following prices:

Raw, 25 Cents per lb. Roast, 30 Cents per lb.

No doubt you can buy Java Coffee as low, or perhaps at lower prices than we offer this, but all we ask is to have you try a pound of ours and compare the quality with the low priced Java. There are lots of Pale Javas in the soil, that are not as good flavored as good Maracaibo Coffee. This Old Government Peaberry Java is, of course nearly as good as a lot of Shadeleaf Java (which are the best Javas grown) now in the market. We sell our Coffee ourselves at our mill, two or three times a week, and guarantee fresh roasted Coffee at all times, and warrant it to suit or it can be returned and the money will be refunded.

NOTICE.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, AUGUSTA, ME., March 15, 1883.

The Governor and Council, in behalf of the State will receive sealed proposals for the publication of the Fourth Revision of the Statutes, as directed for by resolves of the Legislature as follows:

Resolved, That as soon as may be the Governor and Council may contract with the responsible person or persons making the lowest bid for the publication of the Revised Statutes of the State with the Constitution thereof, the Constitution of the United States, the reporting act the reference index tables of the Public Laws of 1883, and such additional matter as may be necessary, in all to not inferior in size or page and width of margin, printing paper and binding, to that of the last edition of the public statutes of Massachusetts, but with the same size of type as that of the Revised Statutes of Maine of 1871 and the person or persons with whom said contract made shall be required to supply the State with three thousand copies of the Statutes so published. The Governor and Council shall reserve the right to reject any and all bids, and they may make said contract upon such terms and conditions as they deem necessary for the interests of the State, and the time for completion of the contract, and the retail price at which the Statutes so published shall be sold, shall be limited and specified in the said contract.

Resolved, That the Secretary of State shall secure the copyright of said new revision for the use of the State, and no edition of the same shall be published by any person other than the contractor aforesaid until the expiration of five years from the first day of July, in the year of our Lord 1883.

Resolved, That two thousand copies of the Revised Statutes belonging to the State shall, when printed, be deposited by the publisher thereof, in the office of the Secretary of State. Said Statutes to be printed and published in the style aforesaid to be completed as far as the end of the 14th title as rapidly as may be, and in any event to be delivered at the office of the Secretary of State on or before the 20th day of August, 1883.

The proposals must be of a price per page for volume of 1600 pages more or less for printing, and of a price per volume for binding. The retail price of the Statutes for the public not to exceed $5 per volume. The right to reject any and all bids reserved. MAINE NEWS.

THE CALAIS TRAGEDY.

DEATH OF MR. KELLEY.

THE PERPETRATOR SURRENDERS.

CALAIS March 2 The physicians held a consultation this morning and report Mr Kelley shot by Herbert Eaton Tuesday night will not live more than two days Joseph Eaton is comfortable and will recover Herbert Eaton induced by friends returned to the city last night and gave himself up Bail was accepted in the sum of $ 500 for his appearance

Later—Death of Mr Kelley

Samuel Kelley Jr shot by Herbert Eaton Tuesday night died this evening He refused to make any statement regarding the affair

The above at first seems to be quite dead many say as no cause can be assigned for the murder but deed unless it was done in a moment of frenzy induced by liquor drinking Mr Kelley walked from the stable where he received the wound to his own home a third more away went to his room, removed his clothes and retired Stephen son for his father Deacon Samuel Kelley an old and respected citizen of Calais told him of the affair and sent for medical assistance The wound, which is in the left hip was no supposed to be very dangerous at the time but yesterday unfavorable symptom made their appearance and as reported in the despatch, it is thought Mr Kelley cannot recover

In conversation with a gentleman the day after the affair occurred Mr Kelley said that while passing the stable at the rear of Mr Joseph Eaton's residence, in company with a friend when they were hailed by the two Eatons (Herbert and Joseph who invited them into the stable office a neatly furnished apartment It is said that the Eatons had been having a social day and were feeling very merry when Kelley and his friend went in

It was at supper time and they had been chatting in a pleasant manner for some half an hour when Herbert got up and without any warning whatever took a revolver from his overcoat and shot his victim in the left thigh Kelley then turned from the office but before he got out of range was shot as described above

It is reported that when Herbert drew his revolver he said Joe I have had enough of your fooling Immediately after the shooting Herbert took his team and drove to Red Beach a distance of seven miles where he erected a summer residence about eight years ago and here he locked himself in and threatened to shoot any one who attempted to enter the house Since then however, he has been persuaded to give himself up and has made his appearance when wanted

The affair particularly sad and has created a feeling of gloom over the community The parties belong to excellent families Herbert has led a very dissipated life of late and his unenviable reputation and Joseph Eaton were almost inseparable companions the younger and a very wealthy young man has made his home a large part of the time with Joseph whom he considered more as a friend in business than a brother advancing large sums of money They have been constant companions and no matter what the condition might be whether rough or merry, they were always good natured Herbert has an interest in the firm of Eaton Brothers, lumber dealers, but for a number of years has not had an active part in the business Joseph Eaton is a business genius being the owner of a large planing mill and bedding factory

Since the above was written a despatch has been received announcing the death of Mr Kelley

The Chronicle, of Marlborough, Queensland, contains an account of the arrival there of Bernard Gilay of Buffalo N Y who left San Francisco Aug 19th, 1882 in a dory, 18 feet long, for Australia. He was picked up by a coaster January 20th in an exhausted condition, 160 miles from the coast of Queensland

FROM WASHINGTON.

General News.

Secretary Folger Not So Well.

WASHINGTON, March 22 Secretary Folger is suffering from a severe cold, which has settled in his head. He has referred questions of anticipating interest and preparing called bonds to Acting Secretary French, who hopes to be able to dispose of these questions late this afternoon.

The War Among the Creeks

Special Agent Townsend, in a communication from the Sac and Fox Indian Agency, under date of March 15 writes to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs substantially as follows

"In coming from Tulsa to this agency (sixty miles) I found nearly every house and settlement deserted, and that at a season of the year when every man should be in his field instead of running about over the country with a Winchester rifle on his shoulder A reign of terror prevails throughout this part of the Creek Reservation and appears to have stamped almost the entire population, and it seems to me measures should be adopted to bring the war to a close I doubt if this can be accomplished without the interposition of the Government, and if this must come it would be a mercy to many innocent persons involved, in this trouble if it was done at once, so as to prevent further bloodshed and devastation.

I am aware that these troubles are a test of the Creeks for self government, but other interests are at stake and other tribes may become involved, either as enemies or allies I would not embarrass the Creek Nation in its present struggle for independence and existence; rather would I encourage and support its loyal leaders to defend that their capacity for self government may be demonstrated; but if this cannot be done and done quickly I think the public welfare demands that the Government should interfere without delay"

Agent Townsend refers to the fact that armed men from both sides are riding hither and thither all over the country, and from trustworthy information he believes them to be without discipline and in a demoralized condition In conclusion he says

At best it is a disastrous state of affairs bad enough if confined to the limits of their own reservation, but when a portion of them carry their campaign into territory not their own I think it high time that some one should interfere and compel them at least to limit their hostile operations to their own country and their own people This state of affairs affords an excellent opportunity for the many lawless depredations which infest the country to commit depredations on all sides and there are indications that they are not slow to take advantage of it and charge it all to the Creeks"

The Star Route Trial

In the Star Route trial to day several witnesses were examined Robert F Mullens, of Brooklyn was among the number Foxwell pointed out Rerdell who sat stating at the witness and inquired if he had ever seen him He replied in the negative, saying he never saw the man take a book away from the room and never saw any book such as described by Rerdell He had the combination of the safe and it contained no such book

Walter F Riling testified that he was Dorseys private secretary and bookkeeper from the summer of 1872 till the fall of 1879 Rerdell had a desk in the same room The only books kept by Rerdell were a small memorandum book of office expenses and a large mail route book covered with white canvass There were no record books so far as witness knew Witness sent his own books to Dorsey at New York and supposed Torrey closed them up Rerdell made no entries in these books nor did any one except the witness Had often seen Rerdell try to imitate Dorsey's handwriting, his signature, &c, writing several lines at a time

The Smith and Jones memorandum was exhibited to the witness He examined it carefully and said the first three lines were evidently in Dorsey's handwriting but the rest, in his judgment, was not The Chicago Springs letter was shown the witness who was sure it was not in Dorsey's writing He generally spells correctly said the witness Dorsey was not at Chicago Springs at that time and could not have written the letter Merrick took up the Chicago Springs letter and made a sharp cross-examination which resulted in somewhat lessing the strength of the witness testimony on that point Other letters were presented with a rather unsatisfactory result and finally the Court exclaimed, This man does not know his (Dorsey's) handwriting

As the examination progressed the witness's answers became more cautious and non committal and he disclaimed any intention of figuring as an expert in writing When it came to dates the witness' memory was equally uncertain so that the Court remarked that it was not worth while to press an inquiry for it was obvious that the witness had no recollection of dates The Court then adjourned till Monday next

Notes

Treasurer Gilfillan and Commissioner Raum have requested an opinion from the Attorney General on the question of the liability of banks and bankers for taxes from December 1 to March 1 under the provision of the new internal revenue bill

The internal revenue receipts during the last fiscal year were over $146,400 000 The receipts from July 1, 1882 to March 21, 1883 exceed the receipts for the corresponding period of last year by $2,200,000.

CONNECTICUT

The Judson Murder.

HARTFORD, March 22 The Coroner's Jury investigating the cause of the death of the Misses Judson, of East Hartford, held a secret session this evening and rendered a verdict that the women were murdered Brooks Johnson, the negro under arrest on suspicion, will be held for examination before a Justice in East Hartford, on Thursday of next week. The conviction grows that Johnson was concerned in the murder. Some of the statements he has made about his whereabouts on the night of the tragedy prove to be false. He must have had accomplices Henry Judson, of Chicago, a brother of the murdered women, is here doing all he can to find the guilty party

An Interesting Case.

NEW HAVEN, March 22. Case of M R Hall day against the Winchester Repeating Arms Company was begun to day in the Superior Court to recover $10,000 damages for injuries received by an explosion in the cartridge room, September 15, 1877. The plaintiff's attorney alleges that proper guards and shields were not provided for the presses The defendants deny negligence and exhibited in full operation in the court room the leading press, which turned out 100 cartridges in full view of the court and spectators. Several experts will probably testify during the progress of the trial.

NEW YORK

The Late John Howard Payne.

NEW YORK, March 22 The remains of the late John Howard Payne arrived here to-day. They were received by a committee from the Board of Aldermen and escorted to the Governor's room in City Hall, where the body will lie in state to-morrow. In the evening it will be taken in a special car to Washington.

A Pleasant Occasion

Wm Henry Smith, late of Chicago, General Agent of the Associated Press, was formally welcomed to New York to-night at a banquet given at the Union Club An assemblage composed of representatives of the bench, the bar, the banks, insurance, railroads, telegraph and varied mercantile pursuits participated. Speeches were made by Mr. Hyde, of the Equitable Insurance Company, Judge Noah Davis, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, Whitelaw Reid, John A. Stewart, of the United States Trust Company, Gen. Porter, H. W Alexander, Erastus Wimans, and other prominent men. The occasion was a pleasant and significant one.

A Sad Case.

NEW YORK, March 22. The Coroner's Jury in the case of Haverstick, the young musical prodigy who was shot dead by Conkling, a brother of his musical friend, found that the fatal shot was fired "under great provocation." Conkling was committed to the Tombs without bail.

THE MILK WAR.

A Committee Appointed to Attempt a Settlement.

GOSHEN, N. Y., March 22 Another very large meeting of the milk producers was held here this afternoon and additional subscriptions received to aid the producers. The question of submitting the matter for arbitration was discussed and a committee appointed to meet the dealers in New York City to-morrow. If no terms can be made the committee are authorized to arrange for sending the milk to New York City by trucks and disposing of it to small dealers at a lower price than the Milk Exchange demands. A despatch was received from the New England Farmer announcing that a meeting of the milk producers of Houston Valley will be held Monday to take steps to unite with Orange County in the struggle. The meeting adjourned till next Monday.

Getting Desperate

NEWBURGH, N. Y., March 22 The Orange county milk war has extended to Newburgh The milk boat began her trips last night and was at once visited by committees of striking farmers, who wanted the owner of the boat to take four cents per quart for the milk he received and allow them to dump it in the Hudson. He declined and the police prevented any other proceedings. Roughs employed for the purpose have attempted to intercept the milk before it reached the city, both yesterday and to day, and where the boat took about 150 cans from Newburgh last night it took but 41 to-day.

The stoppage of three wagons from the Montgomery creamery of Blakes & Co, last night, on the outskirts of the city, resulted in a desperate struggle Jordan, one of the proprietors of the creamery, was with the wagons and beat off the attacking party with an ice pike, only losing the tail board of one wagon and six cans of milk One of the attacking party was hurt by the pike which was stained with blood when Jordan reached Newburg A more determined effort was to have been made to relieve some of the wagons of their loads to-day, but Jordan concluded to make no night's shipments by the Erie Road from Montgomery.

The milk is said to have reached that station after a desperate fight with the spillers, in which one man is said to have been badly injured. Some of the creamerie are threatening to suspend operations till the trouble is over and farmers from this side of the river are said to be trying to induce the producers in Duchess county to join in the strike.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The Eight Hour Law.

PORTSMOUTH March 22 The Chronicle will say in the morning that the enforcement of the eight hour law in the navy yards will result in reducing the efficiency of the yards in increasing correspondingly the cost of their maintenance and will prove an additional argument in favor of building naval vessels by contract

The First Passenger Car

PLYMOUTH, March 22 The first passenger car went over the new Pemigewasset railroad to-day containing the officials of the road.

BRIDGE CARRIED AWAY.

A Heavy Ice Pack

ST JOHN, March 22 Advices from the Nerepis state that the long Nerepis bridge at the mouth of the river was carried away by ice yesterday Sections of the bridge are standing on end and the ice is piled so high that at one point it is impossible to see across the river from the shore The cost of the bridge was $23 000 The ice in the Hennebecassis river was broken up above Bloomfield by the flood, Tuesday, and ran out into the basin and jammed up against the Bloomfield bridge. The water is now falling, however, and no damage to the bridge is anticipated. Yesterday morning in the vicinity of Sussex on the Dutch Valley road the water was from one to four feet deep. The country in the vicinity of Norton and Bloomfield is almost entirely under water, but the flood is subsiding rapidly.

AT THE SEA SHORE.

Disastrous Passage from Hamburg of a German Ship.

NEW YORK, March 22. The German ship Bertha, which arrived in this port, had a very disastrous passage Said Capt. Kohler, the master "We were 73 days making the trip When we left Hamburg we had fine weather, but the third day after passing City Islands, we had a hurricane from the southwest. In this gale we lost our water tanks and most of our fresh water. The vessel labored heavily in the high seas, and was strained to such an extent that her bull plates, bolts, braces and cross pieces were started, and we made every preparation for abandoning her The storm lulled soon after, however February first we encountered another terrific gale from the west. The storm came on very suddenly, and I ordered the men aloft to furl every inch of sail, excepting the storm staysails While they were thus engaged the vessel gave a lurch and the maintopmast broke and came down with a crash

One poor fellow sustained a fracture of the skull, another broke his leg, another his arm, while the remainder were injured about the back and face and sustained internal injuries On the morning of the 6th we encountered another hurricane from the southwest In this instance we lost almost all else there was remaining Our quarter boats were crushed and the outlook was very gloomy The wind soon veered round to the northward, however, and we had a rest for a spell For five days we drifted comparatively at the mercy of the wind and tide, and came to anchor on the 12th inst at Funchal roads We had been up to this time four days without water. At this port we laid up for three days to make the necessary repairs, and to give the crew surgical care On the 15th we again set sail, and had an ordinary run up to Wednesday last, when we encountered a heavy nor'wester, accompanied by thunder and lightning We weathered it finally, and met with no stormy weather until yesterday, when we were struck by a heavy squall with more thunder and lightning This lasted but a short time, and we arrived at an early hour to-day after the most tempestuous voyage it has ever been my lot to experience"

THE WATERTOWN MURDER

No Satisfactory Clue.

BOSTON, March 22 No satisfactory clue to the Watertown murder has yet been obtained. Benjamin Williams, a colored habitue of Carlton's saloon, and who is under suspicion, absolutely refuses to account for his whereabouts between the hours of six and eleven on the night of the murder. The police are chary of arresting any one without strong evidence, as the law requires that prisoners shall be examined within twenty-four hours after their arrest and their immediate discharge if the evidence is insufficient.

A DESPERATE AFFRAY

Several Men Killed

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22 A despatch from Tombstone, Arizona, says A report has reached this city of a terrible conflict between the cattle men and Mexicans, in which about six men were killed It occurred at Morrison's ranche at Babocomaria, 13 miles from Ft Huachuca. It is impossible to learn the cause at this hour, but the trouble is probably the outgrowth of a cattle dispute between the two factions Great excitement prevails and a party leave this evening for the scene.

A courier from Charleston states that a party while engaged yesterday afternoon around some newly discovered coal fields were attacked by a band of twenty Indians, without warning, and several men killed and three wounded.

PROTECTION OF GAME. We have on several occasions remarked that the game laws were not very well enforced in New Brunswick, but we see how that our Provincial neighbors are moving in the matter. A St John exchange says A meeting of several gentlemen interested in the protection of game in New Brunswick has been held in the office of Mr. J. DeWolfe Spurr, chief game commissioner of the Province. The game laws generally were discussed and it was decided to ask Mr. L. J Almon to correspond with sportsmen in Ontario and Quebec to obtain copies of their laws and the proposed amendments thereto. The New Brunswick laws are quite stringent, but there is a feeling that more restrictions should be placed on market hunting than at present exists; also that hunting after dark with lamps or headlights should be prohibited. Another meeting will be held.

A considerable number of carriages are seen on the streets, the sleighing being poor in some parts of the city.

CHURCH SOCIABLE. The Hammond street church sociable took place last evening in the church vestry and was well attended A bountiful supper, furnished by the ladies, was served from seven to eight o'clock, after which the following programme was presented and was received with much applause Piano and flute duet Mrs Jacob Horton and Mr Ackerman, reading Mrs Reynolds, being encored she gave another selection, song, Mrs J Horton, piano accompaniment by Miss May Thurston, reading, Mrs Reynolds, being heartily encored she gave an additional reading, song Mrs J Horton, Miss Thurston at the piano This was also encored, Mrs Horton responding with a humorous song, which was highly pleasing to the company The rest of the evening was passed in a social manner. The thanks of the society are due to the artists for the entertaining programme which was so well rendered

ARREST OF A HOUSE THIEF F S James, alias Charles Ware, was captured during the latter portion of yesterday afternoon and passed the night at the police station Marshal Reed observed him with a team on Pickering square and stepped up to arrest the fellow, but he skipped and a lively chase ensued which resulted in a bystander tripping the chap near Fox's corner just as the Marshal had nearly caught up with the runaway. The fellow has been trading horses and teams quite heavily of late and there is every reason for believing that he has been one of the most persistent and successful horse thieves that have ever practised their bold operations in our State This individual is supposed to be the one who last fall stole the team from Jefferson and which was subsequently recovered by the Bangor police The boy mare which the fellow had in his possession when arrested to this city was probably stolen by him from some one An examination of his person after arrest led to the discovery in his pocket book of some clippings from a Nashua, N H, paper which described his being implicated in a harness robbery in that city The prisoner is of medium height about thirty years of age, and wears a beard of a few weeks growth

DEATH OF A MAINE MAN IN COLORADO Austin H Jackson, formerly of Hampden, died suddenly in Paonia, Gunnison County Col on the 9th day of February, at the age of 60 years and 17 days of heart disease The Pitkin Col, Mining News says Mr Jackson rose from his bed at three o'clock in the morning and walked the floor for nearly an hour with his hand on his breast, complaining of a terrible pain there All at once he said

My time has come and sat down to the table with pencil and paper to write the address of his brother, E S Jackson, of Hampden, Maine and when he had got it partly written he straightened back dead He was buried with due solemnity and all his old Pitkin friends and others turned out Mr Jackson was one of the first settlers in this district He came where Pitkin now stands about the 1st of August 1878 and a few days after located the Alta and Western Hemisphere mines the latter now being known as the Ocean located upon Islet Hill He remained here with a firm belief in the future of Pitkin and the Quartz Creek district, until last October when his health compelled him to seek a lower altitude and he went down to spend the winter with friends in the reservation intending to return here again in the spring He was a noble hearted man and never hesitated to do a kind act He had scores of warm friends here who will be saddened to hear of his death

OBITUARY

The funeral of Miss Addie A Smith took place yesterday afternoon at her mother's residence on Garland street where a large number of friends gathered to pay a tribute to her rare worth of character and to express their sympathy with the bereaved family As your reader already know, Miss Smith passed on to the higher life from Dorchester Mass, where she had spent the most of her time for the last three or four year, with near and dear relatives There all that open hand and loving hearts could do, to make an invalid's condition comfortable, and a sick room cheerful, was tenderly and bountifully done

It is not often that we can speak in terms of such unqualified praise as we can of her The great beauty which God had stamped upon her face was but a feeble expression of that greater beauty that adorned her soul Her whole life from its opening to its close, was one of ever-increasing lovliness It was as pure as the lilies sweet as summer roses and beautiful as the days of June Making others happy was her joy and living to usefulness was her continued delight Her very presence was uplifting

"And good thoughts, where her feet steps press'd, Like rosy blossoms grew"

In the days of her health she was radiant with cheerfulness, and as she went down into the valley of the shadow of death, and caught by faith a sight of the light on the other side that cheerfulness did not desert her We so much need the ministrations of such a noble and rich life that we tearfully look upon its earthly close, but our tears are partially checked as we think what a blessing it has been and while we give our sincere sympathy to that afflicted home we rejoice with its members that they had such a treasure on the earth and now have it in Heaven

"O! blessed are they who have and are like her,
Loved with such love and with such sorrow mourned

An Important Order

The following order which interests all dealers in manufactured tobacco has been issued from the Internal Revenue Department to all Internal Revenue officers

OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE
Washington, March 14, 1883.

Sir: Section 3407 of the Revised Statutes is amended by adding thereto the following proviso: "Provided, That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may, in his discretion, authorize the affixing of the stamps required to be affixed to packages of manufactured tobacco, snuff or cigars by the stamps or stamped wrappers on the packages."

Section 3406 provides that before any new or unused box, can, bag or other receptacle shall be filled with manufactured tobacco, snuff or cigars by the person who shall first use the same for packing tobacco, snuff or cigars, the stamp or stamps thereon shall be effectually canceled by the person using the same, by writing or printing thereon with pen and ink or indelible pencil his name, the month and the day of the month when such use shall be made, and by such other mode of cancellation as may be prescribed by regulations made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Section 3406 also provides that whenever any manufactured tobacco, snuff or cigars in any box, can, bag or other receptacle shall be the property of any person who shall handle the same in order to destroy utterly the stamp thereon

The same section authorizes any revenue officer to destroy any manufactured tobacco, snuff or cigars found in any box, can, bag or other receptacle which has a stamp affixed thereto, which shall not be canceled as required by law.

You are hereby directed to cause a thorough canvass of your Division to be made to see that the provisions above referred to are strictly complied with.

You will commence this canvass at once and visit dealers in manufactured tobacco, examine carefully their stocks to discover whether the stamp on tobacco packages and cigar boxes have been destroyed, and if not, to take measures to see that it is done at once.

It is not the wish of the Department to institute proceedings at law for these offences, but to see that stamps on all emptied tobacco and cigar boxes and tobacco packages are utterly destroyed at the earliest time possible.

In accordance with the above order, Mr. G. F. Danforth, Deputy Collector, will at once commence a canvass of this Division and respectfully requests all dealers to assist as much as possible by immediately destroying utterly all stamps on emptied packages, boxes, &c

NEW MAGAZINES.

The April WIDE AWAKE will greatly entertain all its young patrons who have leanings toward art and curiosity as to its methods, by the delightful account of John Angelo's Visit to the Water color exhibition of '83. It is full of studio gossip, and shrewd criticisms, and a child-model contributes of her droll experiences. Some thirty illustrations have been furnished by the leading Water Color artists. Champ has made some humorous drawings of the Model Child, and Shute has three large, fine engravings of scenes in the National Academy where the Exhibition was held. The length of this art paper has crowded out the Third Act of Mr. Talbot's Comedy, More Than They Bargained For, but long installments are given of both The Silver City and Old Graves Days. Part I. of Madame Olid is more useful and entertaining than Natural History stories usually are, and Mrs. Dall's John Spicer Lecture No. V. on food, is witty and very much to the point. Very much to the point, too, is Nora Perry's excellent story for grown-up girls, entitled, Noblesse Oblige, which, by the way, has a beautiful full-page illustration by Miss C. A. Northam. Another fine full-page engraving is the frontispiece, Clarice, by Miss Humphrey, for Margaret Sidney's Easter poem; and still another is by Alfred Fredericks, for Mrs. Browning's Mother and Poet, and still one more is by Garrett, for Lucy Larcom's Jack-in-the-Swamp. There is also a charming Spring poem for the little folks, the joint work of Elizabeth Cummings and Robert Lewis. Edward Everett Hale talks with the club concerning The United States of Europe; Mary Treat has a nature-study of The Beech-maker, Miss Harris writes on Pleasant Authors about Charles Kingsley, Prof. Sargent tells the boys something About Running and Jumping, the Next Neighbor talks with Anna Maria about Kitchens as They Should Be, Marion Harland instructs her Cooking Society about breakfast Dishes, and so on to the end of a very charming number. Only $2.50 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston, Mass.

THE FERTILIZER STATION.

The following is the new draft of the bill now in law establishing a Fertilizer Station:

SECTION 1.—Every lot or parcel of commercial fertilizer sold, offered or exposed for sale within this State, shall be accompanied by a printed label, which shall state clearly the composition of the same, as follows, to wit: In the case of all fertilizers which are sold at more than two live dollars per ton, and which contain nitrogen, potash, or phosphoric acid, the said label shall give the percentage of nitrogen, or its equivalent in ammonia, in an available form, of potash soluble in water, and of phosphoric acid in an available form—soluble or reverted—as well as the total phosphoric acid. In the case of those fertilizers which consist of other and cheaper materials, the said label shall give a correct general statement of the composition and ingredients of the fertilizer it accompanies.

SECT. 2.—Every importer of commercial fertilizers as specified in section one, before ordering the same for sale in this State shall procure a license as an importer of the same, and shall pay into the treasury of this State the sum of fifty dollars annually, as a license fee; and shall at the same time file with the Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, a paper giving the names of his principal agents, and also the name and composition of the fertilizer or fertilizers manufactured or imported by him. Such license shall entitle the person to whom it is issued to sell and offer for sale only one named kind of fertilizer; but such person shall be entitled to sell any other kind of fertilizer upon the payment into the treasury of this State of an additional license fee of fifteen dollars for each additional kind.

SECT. 3.—Any person selling, offering or exposing for sale any commercial fertilizer without the statement required by the first section of this act, or with a label stating that said fertilizer contains a larger percentage of any one of more of the constituents mentioned in said section than is contained therein, or respecting the sale of which all the provisions of section two have not been fully complied with, shall forfeit one hundred dollars for the first offence and two hundred dollars for each subsequent offence. Suits may be brought for the recovery of the damages under the provisions of this act, in the county where the fertilizer was offered for sale or manufactured; and all fines so recovered shall be paid into the Treasury of State by the court collecting the same. Such suits shall be brought by the Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture in the name of the State of Maine.

SECT. 4.—The Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture shall be State Inspector of fertilizers. It shall be the duty of said inspector or some competent person by him deputized, annually to analyze one or more specimens of every kind of commercial fertilizers coming within the provisions of this act which may be offered for sale within this State, and of the existence of which he shall be informed by the Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, and for this purpose he is authorized and directed to take from any package or packages of said fertilizers which may be in the possession of any dealer a sample not exceeding one pound in weight. He shall report annually to the State Board of Agriculture the result of his inspection and the analysis made by him, and furnish the Secretary of said Board such important information in regard to commercial fertilizers as he shall from time to time obtain.

SECT. 5.—The fee of the State Inspector of fertilizers shall be fifteen dollars for each analysis made by him or under his direction, and traveling expenses to be paid from the Treasury of the State, on certificate of the State Board of Agriculture, provided, that no larger sum shall be paid for such services each year than is paid into the Treasury of the State for license fees as provided in section two.

SECT. 6.—It shall be the duty of said inspector upon ascertaining any violation of this act to forthwith inform the manufacturer and the secretary of the State Board of Agriculture in writing thereof; and it shall be the duty of said Secretary to immediately institute proceedings against all parties violating this act.

SECT. 7.—If the Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, or the chemist making the analysis of fertilizers under this act, shall violate, or knowingly fail to perform his duty as prescribed in section four, or shall collude with any manufacturer of, or agent, or dealer in any fertilizer, to evade the provisions of this act, so as to injure any manufacturer of, or agent, or dealer in any fertilizer, such Secretary or chemist shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to a fine of five hundred dollars, to be recovered by any court of competent jurisdiction.

A BURDEN LIFTED. He was a depositor in a Rochester savings bank. He entered the institution the other morning and timidly inquired:

"Is the cashier in the city?"

"Oh, yes; he's at his window."

"And is the treasurer around?"

"He is."

"And the president?"

"The president is in his office."

"Has the bank been speculating in oil, wheat, cotton or mines?"

"No, sir."

"And if I was to present my book, could I draw the $4 I have on deposit?"

"You could."

"Well, that takes a great burden off my mind," sighed the stranger, as he walked out with greatly improved look.—Detroit Free Press.

A passenger on a Chicago cable car wishing to stop the juggernaut, reached for the bell-strap, and pulling, rang the bells at both ends of the car.

"What did you ring both bells for?" gruffly demanded the captain of the car.

"Because I wanted both ends to stop," was the laconic response.

The conductor was mad because the people all yelled and it would not be dignified to kick himself in their presence.

A parrot that was always plunged into cold water as a punishment for swearing, happened to see passing his cage one rainy day some dripping, drenched chickens, and called out, "you feathered fools! been swearing, eh?"

VARIOUS QUACKS.

Who—Each with his own Pet Scheme—Cultivate the Field of Human Nature.

There have always been quacks, legal quacks, theological quacks, scientific quacks and medical quacks. Some of them are blandly jolly fellows who argue and smile the world into believing in their favorite bit of humbug. Others are pompous and pretentious parasites. But they make it pay. Men seem to love to be swindled, stipulating only that it shall be neatly done.

The dear public are equally liberal to the electric and magnetic fraud. The fellow is a genius in his line. He will put a magnetic belt around your waist, a magnetic necklace under your chin, or fill you out with an entire suit of magnetic clothes, warranted to serve the purpose of ordinary garments, and at the same time secure all diseases, from whooping cough to body consumption.

Most of these have no more electric or magnetic power about them than reside in woolen blankets or in garden of sackcloth. Only when applied by an expert as electricity of the slightest use as a medicinal agent, and even then its value is grossly over stated. What is the strongest possible presumptive evidence in favor of a particular remedy? Clearly that it should have been prepared by responsible persons of acknowledged skill in the treatment of disease.

Squarely on this foundation stands BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER. Endorsed by 5,000 physicians, pharmacists, druggists and chemists, it needs no further apology for introduction. It is the one and only true and efficient external application. Quacks of all kinds pay the Capcine the compliment of their dislike, and Satan is said to hate holy water.

Look in the middle of the plaster for the word "CAPCINE." Price 25 cents.

AYER'S Hair Vigor

restores, with the gloss and freshness of early youth, faded or gray hair to its natural, rich, lustrous color, dry, thin, falling hair is made to grow again, and the glands, which nourish the roots of the hair, are cleansed, healed, and invigorated by its use. Thus, light, healthful dressing, it is unequaled. It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a new growth. Instances have been frequent in which it has restored hair that had fallen off entirely. While it may not be possible to restore hair in all cases where the glands are destroyed or the roots decayed, this preparation will, in every case, start the dormant vitality of the roots into healthful action, and will always bring back the color of youth to gray hair. Nothing else is so certain to prevent baldness.

Mrs. A. P. Bradley, writing from Ely, Cal., says: "My hair was falling out, and in a short time I should have been entirely bald. I began using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and the falling stopped, and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. This soon became long, and is now as good as before it fell. I attribute the restoration entirely to the use of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR."

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its virtue.

A YOUNG OLD LADY.

"Yes, Sir! I'm Younger than any of my Children now," said Mrs. Sarah M. Robinson, of 61 William st., New Haven, Conn.,—"Mrs. Read Lewis' Dandelion and Wahi Cordial, but Seldom See them in Society.

"Yes, Sir; I'm younger than any of my children now. I keep up with the times. I read the papers, applaud the victories of old Yale, and don't grow old," were the words of Mrs. Robinson to your reporter when he called at her home. Mrs. Robinson is one of the earnest, go ahead sort of aged ladies, of whom you read, but whom you so rarely find in modern society. "I've had my share of troubles," she said, "for all my life I've been a sufferer from erysipelas. From this has resulted diseased stomach and inaction of the digestive organs. I've been troubled with dyspepsia and have had such a weakness of the stomach I have seemed as if I needed something artificial and strengthening. I attribute this to erysipelas, which is constitutional with me. I've been under the physicians' care a great deal in my life, but I never received any permanent benefit I think until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY, which has proved a perfect restorative in my case. My health is now what it has not been for a long time. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY an excellent medicine. It is used extensively in this city. It is a valuable family medicine, and will rank among the best of the good results of using it."

Your reporter left Mrs. Robinson rejoicing in health and strength, and heard nothing but unstinted praise on that which is the source of happiness to thousands, viz.: Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. Ask your druggist for it. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY has become a household word. Everybody, sooner or later, gets sick, and sickness in both weariness and toil. FAVORITE REMEDY is the thing you should take. It will prevent fever, and feel miserable generally. HOP BITTERS will give you fair skin, rich blood, the sweetest breath, health, and comfort.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Often Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, General Debility, Catarrh, and all diseases caused by an impoverished or impure blood, or constitutional taint of the blood, develop the blood-purifying power.

During a long period of unparalleled success, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has proved its perfect adaptation to the cure of all diseases originating in poor blood and a weaken'd habit. It is a highly concentrated extract of Sarsaparilla and other blood-purifying roots, combined with Iodide of Potassium and Iron, and is the safest, most reliable, and most economical blood-purifier and blood-food that can be used.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1882.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.: I have used your AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in my family for Inflammatory Rheumatism, with which I have been troubled for years, and find it a perfect cure. I have been troubled with the Rheumatism since. Have used many remedies, but never found one that would relieve me like AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and it cured me in a short time. I have not been troubled with the Rheumatism since. Have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and in every instance it has resulted in perfect cures. No other blood medicine can be effected in this vicinity compare with it. It is the best blood medicine ever sold in this market. Yours truly,

JAMES MARVIN.

Rheumatism Cured.
